Grandpa, when you were a boy
did you have television?
Of course we had a television!
But it wasn't a color TV like now,
it was black and white.
And were there lots and lots of channels?
How many TV channels were there?
Only three. But that was enough!
We loved it!
And there weren't shows all day long.
There was usually nothing
on the morning or the afternoon!
Oh no! What time did TV shows start?
At around 5:00, when children's TV started.
There were some great shows for us children,
I can tell you!
We had real stories in those days!
Did your mom and dad give you an allowance?
Yes, but I worked for it!
I cleaned the kitchen and did the dishes.
We didn't have dishwashers in those days!

Vovô, quando você era criança,
você tinha televisão?
Claro que tínhamos televisão!
Mas não era uma TV em cores como agora,
era em preto e branco.
E havia muitos e muitos canais?
Quantos canais de TV havia?
Somente três. Mas era suficiente!
Nós amávamos!
E não havia programas o dia inteiro.
Geralmente não havia nada
de manhã ou à tarde!
Ah não! A que horas os programas de TV começavam?
Por volta das 5:00, quando a TV infantil começava.
Havia ótimos programas para nós, crianças,
posso te contar!
Tínhamos histórias de verdade naqueles dias!
Sua mãe e seu pai te davam mesada?
Sim, mas eu trabalhava para isso!
Limpava a cozinha e lavava a louça.
Não tínhamos lava-louças naqueles dias!
